TRANSFORMED RELATIONSHIPS
COLOSSIANS 3:18-4:1

Big Idea:

Big Idea: In Christ's new community, every relationship is transformed.

1. Power structures are subverted
2. Submission and obedience are reframed
3. What was one-directional becomes mutual

Reflection Questions:

1. As you consider the three ways that Paul & Timothy say relationships in Christ are transformed, is there a particular way you are finding yourself especially grateful for this morning?
2. Is there an aspect of transformed relationships you struggle to live in? Do you struggle to let go of the power you have in relationships? Do you struggle to practice turning yourself toward others? Do you struggle to practice mutuality in relationships that are typically seen as one-directional (child, employee, etc)?
3. Kati suggested to walk in these transformed relationships we need to keep our minds on God's vision for transformed relationships and find a small way each day to practice that. Is there a particular verse you might want to put somewhere you can see it that will help you remember God's vision for your relationships? What's one way you might choose to practice transformed relationships this week?
4. Is there someone you can tell about your verse and the practice you want to do this week so they can hold you accountable?
